ABOUT ME

I am a highly motivated and entrepreneurial individual with a strong foundation in business, investment, and digital marketing. With experience in managing an online watch business and actively investing in the NEPSE stock market, I bring practical skills in leadership, financial analysis, and market strategy. I am also a content creator, using YouTube to share insights on travel and business. My goal is to continuously grow as a business professional by leveraging innovation, strategic thinking, and hands-on experience.
